

Economic Development Case Studies

Discuss the following questions as a group. Take notes and use these to explain the case study to the group.

Where is this initiative taking place?

What are the major components of this economic development project?

Who is benefiting from the project?

Is the improvement short-term or long-term?

What do you think is the best thing about the project?

What's the connection with improving the economy?

Where did the money come from for this project?

Now go to the Google Doc called Economic Development Case Studies that I shared with you and enter the answers to these questions:

- What's the reason for this project?
- How would you measure success for this project?
- Based on this example how would you define economic development?
