

Date	Daily Objectives	Supplementary (Homework)
Tuesday, April 7th	Focus: Start to write or be on the cusp of typing You are on track if you have your outline ready for me to check Today, with many of our compadres away, the senior faculty is opening up the day. Matt and/or I will be available throughout the day to help you keep moving on your project. The following should be on your to-do list: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Finish organizing notes (your reading should already be done) • Create an outline and have me check you off • Meet with your Senior Project Advisor and turn in SPAM-2 Let's get writing...Review the Elements Handout and one of the student exemplars posted on under Student Resources on my DP. Remember the annotated version of this annotated outline that we looked at last week. Consider as you read: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. How does the author approach each Element? 2. Given the differences between this topic and yours, how will YOU approach each element? To be on track you should have a rough draft DONE on Friday by the end of class.	At least 30 minutes of focused writing. You can start with the introduction or Part III
Wednesday April 8th	 You'll have a substitute on Wednesday and Thursday as I'm hosting Charles Heying, the speaker for the artisan economy event. He has five presentations over these two days including one with the city staff. Focus: More of the same! Get writing!! Use your time productively. Try to finish writing a section a day for the rest of the week, so you have a full draft by Friday for me to take home and give you comments on. I'd start with either section I or section III.	At LEAST 30 minutes of focused writing.

	In my absence seek out Matt with specific questions. His students are writing all week so he should be available to answer quick questions. REMEMBER – Economics extra credit event: Handmade Wealth: Lessons for Durango from Portland’s Artisan Economy – 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Durango Arts Center. YOU MUST CHECK IN WITH ME TO GET CREDIT FOR BEING THERE. Skipping out early cancels any points that you earn.
Thursday April 9th	Focus: Write, write, write.	At LEAST 30 minutes of focused writing.
Friday April 10th	I’ll be back on Friday to check in on your progress. I’ll try to check in with everyone this day. I have office hours on Friday after school if you’d like to have a longer conversation. Next week we move into refinement. EXPECT TO DO MAJOR REVISIONS ON YOUR PAPER. By now, you know that I expect much more from a revision than simply moving around commas. Be prepared for two weeks of big time thinking and writing. This will be coming from a place of love so that your last month is pain-free, you crush your presentation, and can take well-deserved victory lap around the parking lot singing Queen’s “We are the Champions!” at the top of your lungs.	Homework: At least 30 minutes of focused writing.
