

Assignment – Writing Reflection

Due: Friday, October 3rd

Purpose:

1. For you to take more ownership over your writing process
2. For me to understand what you want to get better at
3. For you to examine your writing with a critical eye

1. Assignment: Search your writing from this course and/or previous semesters and identify two things in your writing that you want to improve. Use the questions in the rubrics to get ideas. Write a paragraph describing each thing you want to get better. You must include specific sentences, stanzas, or paragraphs in your own writing of each thing and include them after your explanatory paragraph.

Describe why getting better at these two skills is important to you. Describe what keeps you from getting better, and what ideas you think will help you improve. You will meet with me to talk about your reflection, so think about this as prep for your conference.

2. Length: EACH paragraph should be at least eight sentences, not including examples.

3. Form: Double space the text in your examples so we can mark it up.

4. Evaluation: This will be worth 20 points in the Summative category of assessment. Practicing this type of analysis is critical for you to do well on the final project. If the analysis is vague and unfocused, and the examples poorly chosen I will mark off accordingly.
